

Protect your wealth beyond the tangible.

We keep your office, your family and your private information safe from online fraud and theft — quietly, and in plain language.

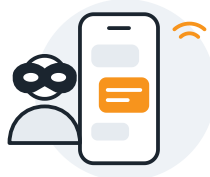

What usually goes wrong

Criminals know a family office has money and few staff. These are the four most common ways they try.

Fake payment requests

An email that looks like it is from your bank or adviser asks you to pay into a new account.

Someone posing as you

A message “from the principal” asks staff to send money or documents, urgently.

Lost phones and laptops

Left in a taxi or a hotel, with family emails and documents on it.

Devices at home

An old Wi-Fi router or home camera that nobody has updated becomes the way in.

Good news:

each of these can be stopped with a few simple checks and the right settings — and we take care of them for you.

What we look after

One trusted team for everything, so you only have one number to call.

The office

Computers, email and files that work, are protected, and are backed up — with help when you call.

The family

Phones, laptops and home Wi-Fi made safe, at home and when travelling.

Your information

Private documents kept private, and seen only by the people you choose.

How it works

Simple, private, and nothing changes until you agree.

We talk

A private conversation about how your office and family work.

We check and plan

A short report in plain English: what to fix first and what it costs.

We protect you

We put it in place, then stay on call and watch for threats day and night.
